- Alba Gavaliugov Méndez, President & Founder, Spanish Alliance of Model United Nations
- Chaired by Stéphanie Fillion, International Reporter; United Nations Correspondent

The United Nations as an institution remains a powerful global force for good; it provides crucial food aid in Yemen, healthcare and mine removal in Afghanistan, peacekeeping in Mali and protecting women and girls in Darfur. However, the past few years have also seen a global pandemic accompanied with a series of catastrophes related to climate change, economic recession and deadly wars involving members of the UN Security Council. As the 21st century unfolds and the world continues to grapple with new challenges, what needs to be done to enable the UN to walk its talk?

10.40 - 10.47

A CONVERSATION WITH...

- Lesia Vasylenko, Member of Parliament, Ukraine
- Chaired by Oni Aningo, Director, Global Group Media

10.50 - 11.10

- Dalia Grybauskaitė, President of Lithuania (2009-2019); Member, The Council of Women World Leaders
- Lesia Vasylenko, Member of Parliament, Ukraine
- Chaired by Oni Aningo, Director, Global Group Media

On 24 February 2022, Russia invaded Ukraine in a major escalation of hostilities which began in 2014. The invasion has resulted in tens of thousands of deaths and caused Europe's largest refugee crisis since World War II, with an estimated 8 million people being displaced within the country by late May as well as 7.7 million Ukrainians fleeing the country as of 18 October 2022. This panel will put a spotlight on just a couple of the many critical issues in Ukraine currently.

- Birna Einarsdóttir, CEO, Íslandsbanki
- Chaired by Douglas Beal, Partner & Director, Sustainable Investing & Social Impact, BCG

The cost of living crisis and the alarming acceleration of energy prices has led to justifiable fears that simply existing may prove too costly for many people. This discussion will aim to discover what tools or methods exist to improve the financial circumstances of individuals or businesses during a cost of living crisis and to discuss the importance of bringing disenfranchised people and businesses around the world into the digital economy.

14.00 - 14.20

LET'S TALK METAVERSE

- Pearly Chen, Vice-President, HTC
- Sue Black, Professor of Computer Science and Technology Evangelist, Durham University
- Ayumi Moore Aoki, Founder & CEO, Women in Tech
- Chaired by Juliane Veits, Managing Director, The Nunatak Group

Are we on the brink of a new digital era, an entirely new way of globally interacting with other people and entities? Before this question can be truly answered, a much broader cross-section of the public needs to understand what the Metaverse actually is and proposes to do. How close are we really to augmenting our capabilities, amplifying our connections and enriching our interactions?

14.25 - 14.32

A CONVERSATION WITH...

- Dani Ayers, International CEO of Me Too Movement
- Chaired by Rick Zedník, Advisor and Secretary of the Board for Women Political Leaders

- Unette Spencer, Chief of Staff to Mastercard's Vice Chair, Mastercard
- Rana Abdelhamid, Founder & President, Malukah; Mentee, Running Start
- Chaired by Dominik Weh, Partner & Co-Head Public Sector & Policy, Europe, Oliver Wyman

Mentoring has become big business, whether it is an internal scheme or externally sourced, but without appropriate processes it is hard to gauge their effectiveness. This panel will discuss the benefits and pitfalls of mentoring programmes, the relationship between mentorship and sponsorship and how we can make sure mentoring works for all.

15.00 - 15.20

REIMAGINING MONEY

- Joanne Kubba, Vice President, Public Affairs, Binance
- Daniela Schackis, Deputy Director General, SSM Governance & Operations, European Central Bank
- Vera Futorjanski, CEO & Founder, Veritas Ventures
- Chaired by Jennifer Blanke, Non-Executive Director African Risk Capacity Ltd.

THE FORUM PROGRAMME

Just as electronic trading and digital banking revolutionised the global financial system some 35 years ago, blockchain technology and cryptocurrencies are set to revolutionise it once again. These innovations are purportedly on the mission to democratise money. Though it seems like a promising opportunity, it's essential to unpack the implications of this new technology and understand how we as a society are ready for this change.

15.20 - 15.50

ENERGY BOOSTING BREAK

15.55 - 16.00

- Ingrid Leary, Member of Parliament, New Zealand; WPL Country Ambassador
- Ulrik Vestergaard Knudsen, Deputy Secretary-General, OECD
- Jane Sargus, Executive Director, Congressional Office for International Leadership
- Chaired by Lara Jakes, Foreign Correspondent, New York Times

There can be no doubt that 2022 has been a tumultuous year for those responsible for thinking about global geopolitical questions and much more so for those directly affected by the consequences. This panel will look to discuss the nature and severity of these changes, to evaluate the response and obligations of governments and business.

16.30 - 16.35

THE POWER OF.. DESIGN

- Mae-ling Lokko, Architectural scientist & designer; Assistant Professor, The Yale School of Architecture

THE MODERN CITY

- Dagur B. Eggertsson, Mayor of Reykjavik, Iceland
- Yvonne Aki-Sawyerr, Mayor of Freetown, Sierra Leone
- Chaired by Shontiece Epps, Legal Professional, Office of the Solicitor General; Running Start Mentee

Women experience cities differently from men; when navigating public spaces and choosing where to live and work, women will often make decisions based on perceptions of safety. This panel will discuss the various visions of a safe and progressive city and ask if there are compromises that need to be made in terms of sustainability to ensure the safety of all.

 - Chaired by Shania Hurtado, Gender Equality Activist; Running Start Mentee
- The science is now beyond discussion and more accepted than ever before: we need to now focus on solutions. There are a number of solutions which are well known by governments, corporations, institutions and the public alike which are waiting to be implemented; which are the most feasible, immediate and consequential actions that can tackle climate change and its numerous causes?
- 09.35 - 09.40 LIVE UPDATES FROM COP27

09.45 - 09.50

THE POWER OF... SPORTS

- Erika Morri, Founder of Wo*men's Rugby Land of Freedom

09.55 – 10.15

IT'S THE PATRIARCHY, STUPID!

- Bergur Ebbs, Writer & Speaker
- Oley Dibba-Wadda, President and CEO, Gam Africa Institute for Leadership (GAIL)
- Michelle Milford Morse, Vice President for Girls and Women Strategy, UN Foundation
- Chaired by Anino Emuwa, Founder & Managing Director, Avandis Consulting

Despite decades of struggle to rid the world of the oppressive patriarchal structures, the data is clearly showing that we are in the middle of a roll-back and there are also worrying signs for future progress in terms of young people. If some alarming trends continue, the next generation of women may have even fewer rights than women today; a call to action against the growing roll-back of women's rights around the world is needed.

10.20 – 10.35

WHEN WALKING ON ICE, WE MIGHT AS WELL DANCE

- Elisso Bolkvadze, MP, Chair of the Parliamentary Commission for Culture; Pianist; UNESCO Ambassador for Peace
- Steiney Skúladóttir, Reykjavíkurdætur
- Chaired by Elise Hufano, Partner, theDifference

There is a strong impression that this is a groundbreaking period in musical creativity. Many young artists feel completely unrestricted in terms of the multitude of creative directions that they can take and that there seems to be fewer restrictions on female artists today. This panel will draw upon the personal and professional experiences and thoughts of two artists who come from very different musical and geographical backgrounds.

10.35 - 10.55

WOMEN, WAR AND PEACE

- Margarita Robles Fernández, Minister of Defence of Spain
- Ingibjörg Sólrún Gísladóttir, Director, Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (2017-2020), OSCE; Minister of Foreign Affairs of Iceland (2007-2009)
- Filsan Abdullahi Ahmed; Founder & Managing Director, Horn Peace Institute; Minister of Women, Children & Youth (2020-2022), Ethiopia; Founder Nabad Television & Nabad Project
- Katrina Fotovat, Senior Official, Secretary's Office of Global Women's Issues, U.S. Department of State
- Chaired by Laura Liswood, Secretary General Council of Women World Leaders

THE FORUM PROGRAMME

There are currently multiple conflict zones where the safety of women is in severe jeopardy, most notably Ukraine, Yemen and Ethiopia and which will likely see women excluded from any future peace talks: women are significantly underrepresented at every stage of the negotiation process. This is despite the fact that women are critical to achieving sustainable peace, as demonstrated in Northern Ireland, Liberia, Colombia, and other places of conflict around the world.

11.00 - 11.20 THE IMPORTANCE OF WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP: A CONVERSATION WITH THE ED OF UN WOMEN AND PRIME MINISTER OF ICELAND

- Katrín Jakobsdóttir, Prime Minister, Iceland; Chair, Council of Women World Leaders

- Zahra Joya, Founder, Rukhshana Media; Journalist
- Sara Beysolow Nyanti, Deputy Special Representative of the Secretary General, Resident Coordinator & Humanitarian Coordinator, South Sudan
- Chaired by Floor Keuleers, Senior Analyst, Gender and Conflict, International Crisis Group

This session wants to shine a light on conflicts which are not dominating global headlines, where untold suffering is taking place and where there are often multiple competing international interests involved which further hinder the reporting of these conflicts. The aim is to learn the situation of women and girls who are living in these contexts and what can global leaders do to tangibly help those in the respective conflicts.

- Chaired by Anouk Heilen, Head of Global Sustainability, Equity and Social Inclusion, Unilever

THE FORUM PROGRAMME

Equal Pay remains a global issue, one which exists in every country in the world even if laws are in place to prevent this. Furthermore, the concept of 'equal pay for equal work' is not one which is protected by law everywhere and other restrictions exist which prevent women from having equal pay to their male counterparts. Why does this gap remain and how can it be closed, for all women?

16.00 - 16.15
